

REPLYING TO BARNES

Comes Out Selwyn Douglass
of Oklahoma City

IN A VERY SHARP LETTER

Accusing the Governor of "Misquotations," in Turn.

Guthrie, O. T., Aug. 25.—Selwyn Douglass of Oklahoma City, has answered Governor Barnes' assault on Flynn. The Douglass answer is a communication to the Oklahoma City Times-Journal. Among other things he says:

Ever since the Enid convention the governor has been in a very unhappy frame of mind.

His failure and the failure of his friends to secure an endorsement for him at Enid soured the governor exceedingly. The unanimous public disapproval of his vulgar attempt to annoy and insult Col. Roosevelt at the Rough Riders' reunion at Oklahoma City in July last, served materially to increase the governor's acidity.

A month later came the stern refusal of the Guthrie convention to endorse the governor and his administration of territorial affairs.

So it happens that his assault upon the Republican party and its candidates has not been unexpected.

It is true that upon his return to Guthrie after Flynn was nominated, he is reported as declaring that he had nothing to say as to the action of the convention in refusing to endorse him and his administration, yet it was universally believed that a person of his dimmutive calibre would not be able to conceal his ill temper and disquietude very long.

But the fact that Governor Barnes makes a number of false and misleading statements in his letter as to what occurred in the committee on resolutions and in the convention, is, perhaps, sufficient to justify, if not to require me to correct certain of them, in regard to which I have personal and positive knowledge.

I know nothing of the conversation between Mr. Flynn and Governor Barnes, which occurred shortly before the convention, except what I heard Mr. Flynn say about it at the meeting of the committee on resolutions of which I was a member.

But from other facts that existed and statements that were made by the governor's friends in the afternoon of the day preceding the convention and on the next morning before the convention assembled, I am satisfied that Mr. Flynn repeated that conversation substantially as it occurred.

I went to Guthrie as a delegate from Oklahoma City on the afternoon of the 25th day of August, 1900, and remained there until after the convention adjourned on the following day. During that afternoon and on the next morning, until the convention assembled, I am satisfied that Mr. Flynn repeated that conversation substantially as it occurred.

The committee on resolutions was composed of delegates selected by the various county delegations, each county delegation selecting its own particular member of the committee.

By means of the report above mentioned, some of the counties were represented in the committee by persons friendly to Governor Barnes—persons who would not have been allowed to go upon the committee, had their respective county delegations supposed that an effort would be made to endorse Barnes in the committee. Others of the counties would, perhaps, have been represented in the committee in the same way, had there been Barnes men enough to "go round."

I have, therefore, no doubt that Barnes purposely deceived Mr. Flynn as to the intention of himself and his friends, precisely as Barnes' friends tried to impose upon the delegates generally, by pretending that no endorsement was to be asked for or sought or requested.

Governor Barnes says that he felt that "whatever resolutions" Mr. Flynn wished adopted, would be adopted, and whatever resolutions he wished rejected would be rejected.

If Governor Barnes felt that way, he simply felt wrong.

Neither that convention nor that committee on resolutions belonged to Mr. Flynn, nor did Mr. Flynn have anything to do with the proposition of the resolutions.

Republican conventions in Oklahoma are usually quite free from dictation.

Two years ago, the Republican convention at Enid nominated Mr. Flynn against his will and without his consent. The convention at Guthrie would have done the same thing if necessary. It was entirely independent of the wishes of Mr. Flynn.

It recognized the invaluable services of Mr. Flynn as our delegate in congress and in re-nominating him, it simply replied to the demand and desire of the Republican party and of the people of the territory generally, which had been daily expressed in the most positive manner for many weeks before that convention was called.

Mr. Flynn came into the room of the committee on resolutions in response to the unanimous invitation of the committee, but he did not say one word to the committee until Mr. Greer, of Logan county, the spokesman of Governor Barnes, insisted that he should state his views relative to an endorsement of the territorial administration.

As a member of the committee I earnestly objected to the committee's receiving any statement from Mr. Flynn on that subject, for the reason that we were there as the representatives of the people of the territory and of the people, and we should not, accordingly, regardless of the wishes or suggestions of anybody.

No representative has ever served his people with greater ability, fidelity or sincerity than Selwyn Douglass. He has served the people of Oklahoma, and yet, notwithstanding the high and noble regard in which we all hold him, there never was an instant during the sessions of either the committee or convention when Mr. Flynn could have induced either of them to adopt a resolution endorsing Governor Barnes' administration.

If the committee by any indiscretion or oversight, had submitted such a resolution to the convention, it would have been rejected, as was the minority report, with a roar of contempt and disdain.

The reason why Governor Barnes' administration was not endorsed, was clearly and distinctly stated in the session of the committee on resolutions by several members of the committee, among others:

by Governor A. J. Seay. These reasons were not factual, not in the least. They were valid and convincing and unanswerable.

Governor Barnes criticizes the platform adopted by the convention, which is an ungrateful thing for him to do, for the reason that every word of it with the exception of the fourth plank or paragraph, was written and offered by Mr. Greer, the Governor's special friend and advocate.

The fourth paragraph congratulates the people for the successful efforts of our delegation in securing the endorsement of free homes for the settlers of the Indian reservations, by the aid of the Republican president and Republican congress. That paragraph was offered by Mr. Douglas as a substitute for a paragraph on the same subject by Mr. Greer, which did not mention the name of the president nor contain any reference to the presidential office.

The statement of Governor Barnes that Mr. Douglas presented resolutions ignoring the name of the president and that the same were accepted in lieu of Mr. Greer's resolutions, is absolutely false.

The governor complains that Mr. Flynn's name is mentioned several times in the platform while his own name is not mentioned once.

It was Governor Barnes' friend, Mr. Greer, who wrote Flynn's name in that platform so many times.

Under the circumstances it seems to me that it was highly proper for all of us, including Mr. Greer, to be a bit enthusiastic over Mr. Flynn. I may have wronged Mr. Greer at that time, by the suspicion that perhaps he named Mr. Flynn so often in order to distract attention from his earnest endeavors to get the convention to favorably mention the territorial administration just once.

Whatever the motive, it was fruitless effort. The convention could not have too much of Mr. Flynn and too little of Governor Barnes.

The endorsement of President McKinley and the national administration was full and complete, although not as direct, perhaps, as the endorsement in a resolution offered in a committee by Mr. Douglas as a substitute for one of Mr. Greer's long paragraphs. The resolution offered by Mr. Douglas is as follows:

"We earnestly and honestly endorse the administration of President McKinley and his conduct of national affairs and policies at home and abroad."

I have not read the platform since its adoption, but my recollection is that the national administration was duly recognized and heartily approved.

RACE MEETING AT GUTHRIE

Under State Fair Auspices—Running Races by Night.

Guthrie, O. T., Aug. 26.—The seventh annual race meeting of the Oklahoma state fair will take place at Guthrie, September 13th to 14th. The program shows 63 entries for harness races in six stake races—an average of more than ten entries to each race. The stakes for these races alone run to about $1500. Besides the stake races there are a number of purse races, and three running races each day. The purse races do not close until the 8th of September, and bids for to be largely filled. The Oklahoma state fair is creating a novelty this year. Its running race arrangements have been made for 23 electric lights around the track, a distance of 30 feet apart. This will make the track as bright as day. The cool nights and the great desire of the people for an enjoyable night entertainment will draw large crowds to these night races. Besides the racing there are very popular in this country. The Oklahoma state fair association is this year composed of C. H. Thompson, president; R. F. Fagan, vice-president; P. H. Greer, secretary; W. H. Gray, treasurer; and J. E. Hall, General Superintendent. This it will be seen that strong men are behind the institution. There will be reduced rates on the railroads, and excursions will be run during the big days. For all the people of Oklahoma who desire a good time, this race meeting affords a rare opportunity.

Decker Will Snow Mackey, Badly.

Pond Creek, O. T., Aug. 26.—J. H. Decker of this city is the Republican challenger of Mackey in the Republican convention at the hands of the Republican convention at Jefferson yesterday afternoon for representative of the Twenty-first district. The Union candidate, A. M. Mackey, is also a resident of this city, but Mr. Decker will carry it two to one, and the district also with a good majority.

Shooting Scrape in Washita County

Guthrie, O. T., Aug. 26.—A special to the Capital from Ardmore says: A cowboy working for Tom Shaban about a McCondy named Jolindrick Sunday night, fourteen miles southwest of this place. The deed was done just over the line in Washita county. The cowboy surrendered to the Washita county authorities. The cause was a neighborhood row.

EDDY'S LAST MEETING

Of the Oklahoma Series, at Guthrie Tonight.

FLYNN IS TO BE THERE

It Will be a Memorable Political Demonstration.

Guthrie, O. T., Aug. 26.—The last date of Congressman Eddy of Minnesota in his present Oklahoma speaking tour, will be met here tomorrow night. The occasion is certain to prove a fitting climax to the series of brilliant and enthusiastic meetings addressed by the noted Minnesotaan. Dennis Flynn will have the platform with Mr. Eddy tomorrow night, and the spectacle of these two doughty champions of the people's land rights will undoubtedly evoke a demonstration which will mark the event as one historically memorable in the annals of Oklahoma political campaigns. Excursion rates have been made on all railroads and a record-breaking turnout is a sure thing.

CHANCE FOR "WHITE CARDS"

To Show Their Colors Will be Given

South McAlester, I. T., Aug. 26.—The Dawes commission has announced an appointment to be held at Atoka, Indian Territory, and continuing as long as may be necessary, for the purpose of taking testimony in Choctaw and Chickasaw contested citizenship cases. This will be the final appointment of the commission preparatory to closing the Choctaw citizenship rules, for transmission to the secretary of the interior for approval. The contested cases are on what is known in the parlance that prevails here as "white cards." It is these "white cards" or doubtful cases that the commission will try at the appointment referred to. These white or doubtful cards have been accumulating in the records of the commission for more than two years. As the commission proceeded through the two nations from September, 1898 to December, 1899, and up to the present time at the headquarters of the commission at Muskogee, taking the Choctaw and Chickasaw census, if it appeared in any case that the applicant was not clearly entitled to enrollment, he was placed upon a white or doubtful card for future consideration and investigation. This was notice to the applicant that his case was doubtful and that a further showing was necessary before final enrollment could be made, and notice to the nation that they were at liberty to contest the status of such person up to the final closing of the rolls.

CHOCTAWS OF MISSISSIPPI

Will be Given an Opportunity to Enroll in that State.

Muskogee, I. T., Aug. 26.—The Dawes commission has issued the following notice regarding the hearing of applicants for enrollment as Mississippi Choctaws: "For the purpose of hearing applicants for identification as Mississippi Choctaws the commission to the five civilized tribes will be in session at Hattiesburg, Perry county, Mississippi, from December 17 to 22, 1900, inclusive."

"The authority vested in this commission to hear and determine the rights of applicants for identification as Mississippi Choctaws is contained in the twenty-first section of the act of congress of June 23, 1898, (Curtis act), which provides: 'Said commission shall have authority to determine the identity of Choctaw Indians claiming rights in the Choctaw lands under article 14 of the treaty between the United States and the Choctaw Indians, concluded September 27, 1830, and to that end may administer oaths, examine witnesses and perform all other acts necessary thereto, and make report to the secretary of the interior.'"

"Section 14 of the treaty above referred to is as follows: 'Be it remembered that a family being desirous to remain and become a citizen of the states shall be permitted to do so by signifying his intention to the agent within six months from the ratification of this treaty, and he or she shall thereupon be entitled to a reservation of one section of 60 acres of land to be bounded by sectional lines of survey; in the manner shall be entitled to one-half that quantity for each unmarried child which is living with him over 10 years of age; and a quarter section to each child as may be under 10 years of age, to adjoin the location of the parent. If they reside upon said lands intending to become citizens of the states for five years after the ratification of this treaty in that case a grant in fee simple shall be made to the family, and shall include the present improvement of the head of the family, or a portion of it. Persons who claim under this article shall not lose the privilege of a Choctaw citizen."

"The Choctaw minister left at 10 o'clock this morning for Cape May, where he will join his wife. Before leaving he made a trip to the state department and was with Acting Secretary Adee for a few minutes. He said he had received nothing from China and had come in great interest in the pending diplomatic negotiations between the powers. He went directly from the state department to the train. His absence from the city at this time was taken as further evidence that there is a halt in negotiations as far as the Chinese officials are concerned. The minister was quite anxious that his departure for Cape May should not be made known and for that reason he left no word as to how long he would stay at the seashore.

The Russian charge d'affaires, M. De Wolpert, also is at Cape May and in view of the fact that Russia is taking in the present negotiations, it is a possibility that the minister and the Russian charge may confer.

WHAT JOHN BULL SAYS OF IT

London, Aug. 26.—The Russo-American surprise as it is called, is the chief feature of the morning papers. While Russia's part in the proposals is regarded with considerable suspicion, it is generally recognized that the part of the surprise press campaign and the emperor's presence at the situation extremely difficult and therefore that it might be wise to adopt the Russo-American program as the best solution of the problem. At the same time a very strong feeling is displayed in favor of a more vigorous line of policy. The Daily Graphic says: "The Russian states are almost moribundly anxious to wash their hands with the Chinese compromise. This has long been apparent. But it is rather surprising to hear that their anxiety is shared by

BLOODY ROW IN THE STREET

Two Oklahoma Cityans Go to Each Other With Knives.

Guthrie, O. T., Aug. 26.—The Oklahoma City Oklahoma says: A bloody fight occurred on Broadway at about 6 o'clock yesterday evening, in which Ralph Cochran, newspaper editor, received a knife wound in the hands of George Neesley, who has acted recently as a special officer on the sheriff's and police forces. The men have always been friends in the past and bystanders say that both are to blame for the present trouble. As near as could be learned the quarrel was as follows: Neesley had been having some trouble with a man named Kimbrough in one of the saloons on the Broadway row, and had his knife out, when Cochran came in. He told Neesley to put up the knife, which the latter refused to do. Cochran again demanded that the knife be put away, and he was answered by a refusal and an oath. This so incensed Cochran that he struck Neesley with his fist, squarely in the face. At this Neesley transferred his quarrel from Kimbrough to Cochran and made for the latter with the knife. Cochran backed out of the door, picking up a chair as he went. He was followed by Neesley who attempted to reach him with the knife. Cochran continued to walk backward, keeping Neesley away with the chair until he tripped and fell backward. As he fell Neesley plunged the knife into his neck, the blade entering just back of the jaw and immediately under the ear, ranging downward, making a gash about three inches long. After the cutting Cochran was removed to a physician's office, where his wound was dressed. Neesley was taken to jail. "White Cards" Cochran's wound is not considered dangerous it is very painful and will probably leave a scar for life. Cochran is well known to the people here, having been a member of the police force while his cousin, Frank Cochran, was sheriff. Neesley has been connected in some way with the sheriff's office for some time, and he was chiefly instrumental in securing the alleged confession of Bill Yoder, who is accused of complicity in the Elk murder.

WANT TAMS BIXBY TO STAY

People Down Muskogee Way Regard Him Highly.

Muskogee, I. T., Aug. 26.—The news that the resignation of Tams Bixby as a member of the Dawes commission has been withdrawn, is hailed with delight by the people of Muskogee, who regard Mr. Bixby as one of the most competent men ever on the commission. As soon as it was announced that his resignation had been forwarded to Washington, the business and professional men of this place without a single exception, joined in a petition asking him to withdraw the resignation. It is thought that this in connection with Muskogee's influence at Washington, has had its weight in causing Mr. Bixby to consent to remain on the commission.

CONSULS ORDERED BACK

The state department yesterday sent specific instructions to Consul Wilcox to return to Hankow and resume his duties there, and to Consul Martin to return to Chün Kiang. These officers were allowed to leave their posts during the first flurry of excitement, but it is now believed that they may resume their duties without personal danger.

CONGRUOUS CHINA DISPATCH

Mr. Conger's cablegram made public this morning is of special interest because of his reference to the coming to Pekin of Prince Ching. In a recent dispatch Mr. Conger stated that several members of the taung-yamen were in Pekin and would soon appear publicly. These facts indicate that there is gathering at Pekin a respectable fragment of the Chinese government, which may afford the basis for an application to J. C. Clark of Russia for peace negotiations. Prince Ching is well known to a friendly of the foreigners, and his coming to Pekin, probably by direction of the empress dowager, indicates that the imperial government is willing to sue for terms, with the real purpose of submission. It is impossible to tell from Mr. Conger's dispatch when it was sent to Pekin, but his statement that the imperial palace was to be entered last Tuesday, places its date very early in the week at least.

For Malaria, Chills and Fever

THE BEST PRESCRIPTION IS

Grove's Tasteless Chili Tonic.

The formula is plainly printed on every bottle—hence you know just what you are taking when you take Grove's. Imitators do not advertise their formula knowing that you would not buy their medicine if you knew what it contained. Grove's contains Iron and Quinine put up in correct proportions and is in a Tasteless form. The Iron acts as a tonic while the Quinine drives the malaria out of the system. Any reliable druggist will tell you that Grove's is the Original and that all other so-called Tasteless Chili Tonics are imitations. An analysis of other chili tonics shows that Grove's is superior to all others in every respect. You are not experimenting when you take Grove's—its superiority and excellence having long been established. Grove's is the only Chili Cure sold throughout the entire malarial sections of the United States. No Cure, No Pay. Price, 50c.

Russia. With the possible exception of Germany, there is probably not another power that would seriously object to the evacuation of Pekin.

"The Daily Mail" observes: "Probably Russia, with the assistance of the United States and France, hope to dictate to the other powers of far eastern policy ensuring the accomplishment of Russian designs, which would be greatly facilitated by the acceptance of Li Hung Chang as plenipotentiary. The powers should refuse to accept any intermediary or to evacuate Pekin, which would only be interpreted as a sign of weakness."

The Daily Express and the Daily Chron sole protests against placing any reliance on the professions of Li Hung Chang or of the Chinese authorities.

The Standard says: "It is not easy to overstate the importance of the decision of the United States and the desire of both of Washington and St. Petersburg to withdraw from Pekin is very intelligible. Public opinion in America is averse to foreign complications, while Russia has discovered that conditions are not propitious for her schemes of conquest. She lacks the necessary large army, and wants the trans-Siberia railroad completed before she can stretch her arms over northern Asia. The powers must, however, retain their hold on the capital. Withdrawal, although not inconsistent, with the dignity of the Washington government, would be quite impracticable for the others. It would be counted as a triumph by the anti-foreign party in China and represented throughout the empire as due to the cowardice of Europe."

The Daily News says: "Acceptance of Li Hung Chang is the only thing the allies can do. His intervention would undoubtedly make for peace. It is pretty clear that, unless statesmen can do something to relieve the tension, affairs, so far as the military can deal with them, have arrived at a deadlock."

The Times makes no comment upon the Russian proposals. According to the Pekin correspondent of the ally Mail, wiring August 15, when, on the approach of the allies, the taung yamen asked an interview with the beleaguered, four of the ministers opposed and seven favored compliance with the request. An appointment was made for the next day but the Chinese ministers did not come. During the night every camp of mail, including armistice and ornaments, was converted into ammunition. A gun was made from a fire extinguisher. Ten thousand hand bags were made of silk brocade material valued at $5 per bag.

St. Claude MacDonald, the British minister sent a message recommending the water gate for the entry of the troops. From Chee Foo it is announced that the telegraphic offices are overwhelmed with the work and that an immense accumulation of dispatches is awaiting transmission.

HOW PEKIN WAS TAKEN

On the other hand, the resources were scant and unorganized. They dragged themselves along as if ready to drop, their Khaki uniforms dripping with perspiration and black with mud.

But a second glance showed that the rescued were pathetically pale and thin. They looked a camp of invalids. Every part of the enclosure testified to their tragic experience. There was a pile of new graves, headed with wooden crosses including the graves of five children. The second secretary's house was the hospital and it was filled with wounded. French nuns ministered there. At one time all four men of the Japanese contingent had been in the hospital, wounded.

There were several cases roiled with timbers heaped over with earth, which served as bomb proofs.

The bulletin was covered with significant notations. For instance: "As there is likely to be a severe dropping fire to day, women and children are forbidden to walk about the grounds."

Here is another: "Writing to the small supply of vegetables and eggs, the market will be open only from 3 to 5 p. m. after. All horse meat is inspected by a physician."

Mr. Conger had the first secretary's house. Seventy American missionaries occupied the chapel. The French contingent had the pavilion on the lawn.

The bravery of the women was noteworthy. They became so accustomed to fire that it was difficult to restrain them from walking about the grounds at all hours.

Several hundred Americans dropped out from the best each day and were struggling into camp in the evening. The native and Indian troops suffered as much. The army could be tracked by dead horses, the soldiers drank continually from the muddy river and walls by the wayside, with the result that an epidemic of dysentery set in. The American hospital during the latter hours of the day, causing great consternation among the officers and men who had wished to move in the cool of the morning and arriving like the Japanese and Russians. But with four armies following a single road, the more enterprising and the right of way and the others had to follow when they could.
